

150 years from Normal

On Saturday, October 20, the Faculty of Education will celebrate 150 years of teacher education at McGill. Join us, as we commemorate this educational milestone with a historical exhibition of facts, artifacts and photographs.

But, it's not just about the Past...

It's also about the Present:

- Cyber-Bullying: Battle or Opportunity?* - Prof. Shaheen Shariff
- The History of First Nations and Inuit Education at McGill University* - Prof. Donna-Lee Smith
- Exploring Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder from the Perspective of Children in Physical Activity* - Prof. William Harvey
- Reel Indians* - Prof. Michael Doxtater
- Art Matters* - Prof. Elizabeth Wood
- Creole Studies & Second Language Education* - Prof. Lise Winer
- When Wrong is Right: The Study of Maladaptive Coping in Children & Adolescents* - Prof. Nancy Heath
- Using Communities of Practice to Support Learning* - Prof. Kim Dalkir
- New Media Pedagogies* - Prof. Michael Hoechsmann
- Higher Education Research & Development: Improving the Quality of Teaching & Learning* - Prof. Alenoush Saroyan
- Building Bridges: ABRACADABRA in the Hands of Classroom Teachers* - Prof. Rob Savage
- Breast Cancer, Psychosocial Health, and Physical Activity* - Prof. Catherine Sabiston
- The Building Blocks of Children's Honesty: Educational, Psychological and Legal Issues* - Prof. Victoria Talwar
- Exploring Links to Organized and Unorganized Physical Activity During Adolescence* - Prof. Enrique Garcia
- Bioinformatics and Information Studies* - Prof. Joan Bartlett
- History Trek* - Prof. Andy Large

And the Future:

- Exploring the Role of Educational Beliefs in Human Rights Education (HRE)* - Kevin Chin (PhD Candidate)
- Attending to Cultural Diversity: Past, Present, & Future* - Anne-Marie Mikhail, (M.Sc Student)
- Apaji mlgigna'tunej gtl'sutiminu ('Let Us Bring Strength back to our Language')* - Janine Metallic (PhD Student)
- Information Ethics in the Post 9/11 Period* - Michelle DeVidi (PhD Candidate)
- Movement Skill Development and Motor Planning of Children with Autism Spectrum Disorders* - Kerri Staples (PhD Student)
- Teaching Music in a Culturally Appropriate Manner in the Inuit Community of Akulivik* - Dale Boyle (PhD Candidate)
- Educational Technology* - Kimberley Corbett-Yates & Kylie Joyce (4th Yr Students)
- The Interdisciplinary Work between Developmental Cognitive Neuroscience and Educational Psychology* - Shohreh M. Rezazadeh (PhD Student)
- The Changing Face of Normal in 20th Century New Brunswick History Textbooks* - Frances Helyar (PhD Candidate)
- Cognitive Tools to Support and Study Diagnostic Reasoning* - Geneviève Gauthier (PhD Student)
- A Virtual Reality Library Catalogue: Catering to the Digital Generations* - Charles-Antoine Julien (PhD Student)
- The Information-Seeking Behavior of Grade 3 Students in the Context of a Class Project* - Valerie Nessel (PhD Candidate)
- Whole-Body Adaptations to Repetitive Motion-Induced Arm Fatigue* - Karen Lomond (PhD Candidate) with Jason Fuller (PhD Student)

with Student Advisors, the Office of Student Teaching (OST), Education Undergraduate Society (EDUS), Education Graduate Student Society (EGSS), and more...

So come and meet our professors and students as they share their exciting research and pedagogy as we celebrate the Past, Present and Future of Education at McGill

The Faculty of Education's Open-House Exhibition is a free event and all are welcome!

Saturday, October 20, 2007, 2-4pm. Education Building, 3700 McTavish, Montreal. For more information visit: www.mcgill.education150.ca or contact: ling.yuen@mcgill.ca